DETAILED ACTION

This is the first office action for U.S. Application 10/800,712 for a Self-Drying Condensate Pad for Beverage and Food Service filed on March 16, 2004.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention. Applicant's claims include subsections a-d, which end with the phrase, "attached atop". However it is not clear what Applicant is claiming these elements are attached atop of. It is also unclear what Applicant is claiming with the phrase, "a fabric, absorbent feature that is hydrophilic in the in plane and cross plane directions". The claims are being examined to the best extent possible.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Art Unit: 3632

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by U.S. Patent 6,774,067 B2 to Demott et al. Demott et al. discloses a pad apparatus with an uppermost fabric covering (32) that is hygroscopic; a fabric, absorbent feature (28) that includes a density greater than the fabric covering; a fabric, thermally-insulative feature (30); a fabric wicking barrier (24), and a bottommost fabric covering that provides further thermal insulation (20).

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

U.S. Patent 6,695,272 B1 to Bomgaars et al.

U.S. Patent 6,102,352 to Kvalvog

U.S. Patent 5,938,162 to Honjo

Art Unit: 3632

U.S. Patent 3,268,198 to Swett
